Citizen Labor Not Used on Government Contracts.

There was a meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club on Tuesday Evening to look into the reported infraction of Act 37 of the last Legislature, which provides that "no person shall be employed as a mechanic or laborer upon any public work, unless such person is a citizen of the United States, or eligible to become a citizen" with several provisos as to when the same cannot be obtained. It was claimed that the contractors who were building the Kukaian and Ookaia Road were employing Japanese labor, instead of citizen labor, although there was considerable of the latter available. A committee of investigation consisting of N. K. Lyman, L. E. Ray and John Bohlenberg were appointed as the Representatives of the Club to look into the matter. A meeting was also held on Wednesday afternoon at Honokaa by the citizens and a protest was sent in to the Superintendent of Public Works.

Among the first decisions handed down by the new Supreme Court, was one sustaining Judge Little, in the case of the Territory vs. Jacintho A. de Nobrega et al., for stealing cattle from the Rickard Estate in Hamakua.

There was an earthquake shock on Monday morning about 11:00 o'clock, which was felt through out the City but with more severity in Puncu. Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock there was another shock.

"No more politics for this rooster," is the way Senator Palmer Woods expresses, in a letter to Col. C. J. He has withdrawn from the National Democratic Committee ship to which he was appointed at St. Louis.

HILO'S SUMMER RESORT.

The Volcano House a Pleasant Retreat From the Heat of the City.

Everyone that spent the Fourth at the Volcano is unstinting in their praise of the management of the hotel, and the good times they had while there. One cannot find a more magnificent view than from the hotel verandas, and one would have to go a long way to find a more exhilarating and bracing air than one encounters on their trips about the hotel grounds and in taking in the several points of interest. There are enough points of interest about the great cavern to give one occupation for every day in the week.

Mr. St. Clair Bridgwood has so changed things at the Volcano House that it is a comfort to be housed there. The era of olden days, when hard beds, dirty floors and a disagreeable table were the order of the day, has passed. The guest when he goes into his room finds a bouquet upon his dresser, clean linen upon his bed, crisp towels upon the rack, and cleanliness staring him from every side and making him blush at the dust he has picked up on the road. Brittle white celery and fresh strawberries from the hotel gardens, are among some of the many delicacies served up to all alike. In fact, there is no reason in the world why Hilo's four hundred should travel to the Coast for an outing, when right at home there is a summer resort of unequalled attractions, with good food and cheer that surpasses any resort of equal size.

John Watt, the Manager.

John Watt, who has taken over the management of Oahu, came to Hawaii from Scotland in 1877. He received his first introduction to the art of cane-raising and plantation management at Waialua Plantation under the tutelage of C. C. Kennedy. He was afterwards head lunn for four years on Paunah Plantation and from that position was promoted to the management of the Honokaa Plantation.

During the ten years he was manager of Honokaa, the plantation grew from a $200,000 to a $2,000,000 concern and the sugar output increased from 2,000 to 10,000 tons per annum.

The stone crusher belonging to the Government is quietly and docilely slumbering near the Reservoir site on the Kaunama road. If the government cannot see their way clear to utilize it on the Hilo streets, they had much rather spend a little paint and preserve it for the next generation to use, when the Territory is in funds, and needed street improvements will be under way.

Hon. S. M. Damon of Bishop & Co., made his first visit to Hilo within a period of about Eight years. He says that the City has changed so completely that he would hardly recognize the little hamlet that he has carried in his mind all these years. The town that used to be, is a City that is. Waianuene Street he said was a great surprise to him. Things in Oahu were shaping themselves to the satisfaction of all.

The Tropical Fruit Growing Company at Waikaka seem to be keeping their factory going, as is evidenced by the shipment they made around the Horn on the S. S. Arizonan. They shipped 2 barrels of Mango Chutney, 3 barrels of Guava Jelly, 1 barrel of Papaia pickle, 1 barrel of Guava Syrup, 184 Dozen jars of Guava jelly, 6 dozen jars of Papaia pickle, 2 dozen jars of pineapple pickle and 60 gallons of Guava Jelly in tins, making a shipment of about $1500.
